SU at a glance

The resources of a University ...

6,000 students from 35 states and 33 foreign countries
34 undergraduate and 9 graduate programs
275 full-time faculty, 90 percent of tenure-track faculty have terminal degrees, including National Endowment for the Humanities scholars and Fulbright professors.
NCAA Division III Athletics, 9 men's, 10 women's intercollegiate teams; 22 intramural sports

... with small-school opportunities.

Approachable faculty (17:1 student/faculty ratio)
Honors program with dedicated faculty at the Bellavance Honors Center. Ten residence complexes including traditional, co-ed, suite and apartment styles.

The security of state support ...

2001-02 tuition, room, board and fees: $10,576 per year for Maryland residents; $16,032 per year out-of-state.
A library with over 800,000 volumes, periodicals, microforms and databases including word processing and computer labs. Access to collections throughout the country.

... with the benefits of private funding.

Altogether, SU awards nearly $1 million in academic scholarships each year. More than $24 million in private endowments supports some of those scholarships and provides for some of the finest educational programs.

In an ideal—and idyllic—location:

Salisbury, MD, is 30 miles west of the Atlantic Ocean and Ocean City, MD, and 20 miles east of the Chesapeake Bay; 2 hours from Baltimore, Washington, D.C. and Wilmington, DE. The campus is 2 1/2 hours from Norfolk, VA, and Philadelphia, PA, and 4 1/2 hours from New York.

Come see us—in person, or in cyberspace. We'd love to see your smiling face, but if you can't get here, check out our Web site.
We're at www.salisbury.edu.

SU's campus is in an attractive, residential neighborhood of stately homes on sculpted lawns, less than one-half mile from the banks of the Wicomico River. The campus includes 47 buildings on over 140 landscaped acres. Students walk from one end of campus to the other in about 5 minutes.

Head Coach Dawn Chamberlin

Dawn Chamberlin completed her 15th season as head coach of the Salisbury University field hockey program in 2001 with another championship season to add to her long list of accomplishments with the Sea Gulls. Chamberlin, who already ranks among the most successful coaches in school history, guided the Sea Gulls to a 16-3 final record in 2001. SU captured its seventh straight Capital Athletic Conference championship and returned to the NCAA Championship Tournament for the 17th time in 18 years. Her Sea Gulls were also the number one ranked team in the NFHCA poll for six weeks during the 2001 season.

Since her first season in 1987, the Sea Gulls have qualified for the NCAA Tournament 14 times, with four appearances in the Final Four. In addition, Salisbury hosted the Final Four for the first time in 2000. The program has produced 27 national All-Americans—including two more in 2001—and 65 all-region players during Chamberlin's tenure. Salisbury's 204-74-8 record under Chamberlin translates to a winning percentage of .727.

Chamberlin, who registered her 200th career victory during the 2001 campaign, has been honored as the NFHCA's South Region Coach-of-the-Year three times. She has also been named the Capital Athletic Conference's Coach of the Year in each of the past seven seasons. She led her squad to an amazing streak of 45-straight CAC victories between 1996 and 2001.

Chamberlin is a 1985 graduate of the University of Iowa, where she was a four-year letterwinner on the highly successful field hockey team. The Hawkeyes won the Big Ten championship outright from 1981 to 1983, before sharing the top spot in 1984. The '84 squad finished second in the nation. Chamberlin, Iowa's co-captain as both a junior and senior, was also a member of the national indoor championship team and was selected to the All-Big Ten team during her senior year.

While at Iowa, she also received the Women's Intercollegiate Athletic Academic Award (1982-1985) and the Physical Education Academic Achievement Award (1983-1985). Chamberlin earned her Master of Education from Salisbury in 1987 and her doctorate from the University of Maryland College Park in 2000.

A Tradition of Success

During the past two decades, Salisbury has established itself as one of the premier field hockey programs among NCAA Division III institutions. The Sea Gulls are one of just eight schools to have captured the national championship since its inception in 1981, claiming the top prize with an undefeated 21-0 campaign in 1986. Since their first visit to the NCAA postseason tournament in 1984, the Gulls have become a regular contender for the national title, with appearances in 17 of the last 18 NCAA postseason tournaments through the 2001 season.

In addition to the national championship in 1986, SU has advanced to the Final Four on four other occasions, finishing as a national semifinalist in 1987, 1988, 1992 and 2000. Additionally, the Gulls have been national quarterfinalists four other times since 1989. Salisbury's outstanding facility has also served as a regional host site for the national championship tournament on four occasions, including in both 1996 and 1997, and host of the Final Four in 2000.

The Sea Gulls notched 10 consecutive winning seasons from 1983 to 1992, and finished in the top ten in the final rankings in each of those seasons. The Sea Gulls finished the 1997 regular season as the number one ranked team in the final NCAA Division III national poll and placed second in the final poll of 2001. SU has reached double-figures in wins in 17 of the last 19 seasons and has averaged 14 wins per year during Dawn Chamberlin's tenure as head coach.

Salisbury also claimed its seventh straight Capital Athletic Conference championship in 2001. The Sea Gulls compiled a record 45-game conference winning streak between 1996 and 2001.

Quality programs are comprised of talented individuals. Salisbury is well represented on the national and regional all star teams each season. During Chamberlin's tenure, the Gulls have produced 27 national All-Americans and had a total of 65 players selected to the all-South Region team. Additionally, Chamberlin has been honored as the region's Coach-of-the-Year three times and the Capital Athletic Conference's Coach of the Year seven times, including 2001.

Gulls Place Six on All-CAC Field Hockey Team

Melissa Webster is Rookie of the Year

Dawn Chamberlin Named Coach of the Year

Six members of the 2001 Salisbury University field hockey team were named to the all-Capital Athletic Conference first and second teams, as selected by the conference coaches. Salisbury, which claimed its seventh straight CAC title, had five players named to the 11-player first team and one named to the second team.

In addition, freshman midfielder Melissa Webster, who scored the game's only goal in Salisbury's 1-0 overtime victory in the CAC Championship Game, was selected as the CAC's Rookie of the Year. Salisbury's Dawn Chamberlin, who reached the 200-win career milestone in 2001, was named by her peers as the CAC's Coach of the Year for the seventh straight season.

Seniors Katie Richardson, Tara Webster and Joanna Fenske, along with junior Jill Cressor, all return to the all-conference first team for the second straight year. Senior Marie Brewington also receives first team honors this year after earning second team recognition in 2000. Sophomore Megan Bailey was named to the second team for the second straight season.

Webster, Cressor Continue SU's All-America Tradition

Salisbury University continued its long tradition of all-America honors with two players selected to the 2001 National Field Hockey Coaches Association (NFHCA) national team. The selections of senior Tara Webster and junior Jill Cressor marks the 16th straight year that at least one Sea Gull player has been represented on the all-America squad.

Webster, a midfielder, was selected to the second team while Cressor, a forward, was named to the third team. Both players are repeat selections, having also earned all-American honors in 2000.

Webster returned to the national second team for the second straight season after finishing with 10 goals, 11 assists and 31 points in 2001. She concluded her career ranked 15th all-time in Sea Gull history with 77 points.

Cressor returned to the national third team after leading the Sea Gulls in scoring with 24 goals and 51 points in 2001. She finished second in the Capital Athletic Conference and fifth in the nation in goals scored. Cressor completed her junior season tied for the all-time lead in Salisbury career goals with 64.

SU's Athletics Philosophy

Salisbury University, a member of the National Collegiate Athletic Association's (NCAA) Division III, offers 19 intercollegiate sports for men and women. In addition to NCAA membership, SU competes as a member of the Capital Athletic Conference (CAC) and the Eastern College Athletic Conference (ECAC).

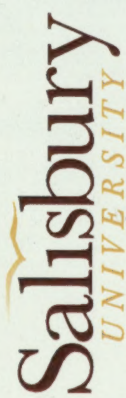

As a member of the NCAA's Division III, Salisbury places the highest priority on the overall quality of the educational experience. In doing so, it seeks to strengthen the integration of objectives and programs in athletics with academic and developmental objectives, and to assure the integration of athletes with other students.

SU places special importance on the impact of athletics on the participants, with emphasis on the internal constituency (students, alumni and special friends) rather than on the general public and its entertainment needs.

The SU athletics program is further characterized by the following principles:

- Participants receive the same treatment as other students. They have no unique privileges in admission, academic advising, course selection, grading, living accommodations or financial aid. Similarly, athletes are not denied rights and opportunities that would be available to them as non-athletes.
- Sports for men and women are given equal emphasis and the desired quality of competition is similar in all sports.
- Students are supported in their efforts to reach high levels of performance by providing them with adequate facilities, competent coaching and appropriate competitive opportunities with students from similar institutions.
- SU strives to make the student-athlete's participation in intercollegiate athletics an enriching experience, and holds genuine concern for each participant's welfare. The intercollegiate program's foremost goal at all times is to supplement and enrich the first priority of the University, which is academic accomplishment.
